Long Branch Free Public Library

NEWSLETTER

NOVEMBER 2026

Dear Library Community,

As Thanksgiving approaches, I find myself thinking about just how fortunate we are to be part of such a wonderful community. At the Long Branch Free Public Library, we have the privilege of being part of people's lives in ways both big and small, and that is something we never take for granted.

To our community partners, supporters, the familiar faces who greet us each day, and those we have yet to meet, thank you. Some of you have been coming to our library for generations. We've watched children grow, celebrated accomplishments, and made friendships along the way. You are the reason our library feels like home! You are the reason our library flourishes.

This month, we are excited to show our appreciation to the Long Branch Recreation Department, our community spotlight. Their toy drives, back-to-school drives, and countless athletic programs bring so much to our city. Whether we're working together on movie nights, a special Fun Day, Juneteenth, or another community celebration, we see firsthand how much they care about the people of Long Branch.

November is also a fitting time to reflect on those who have given so much to others. We are especially grateful to our veterans, active service members, and their families, whose sacrifices deserve our appreciation every day, not just on Veterans Day.

We also recognize Native American Heritage Month and honor the Lenape people, whose ancestral homeland includes the land we call Long Branch today. The Lenape were here long before the arrival of Long Branch's first European settlers - the Slocums. Their encounters became part of our local folklore, including the legendary wrestling match featured in this month's local history spotlight. Their history remains an important part of our region's story.

As you gather around your Thanksgiving tables, please know that our library and patrons, have a special place in our hearts. Your support means more than words can express. We love what we do because of the people we get to share it with.

From our library family to yours, may your Thanksgiving be filled with love, laughter, good food, and the people who make life special.

Happy Thanksgiving, and thank you for being part of our family.

Warmly,

Tonya Garcia
Library Director

NEW EXHIBIT ALERT!

For the month of November, the display facing the circulation desk will feature an exhibit dedicated to the Native American History of Long Branch. Specifically, the Lenape Tribe, who were the native Indians of Monmouth County. The Indian population of Monmouth County dates back 12,000 years and local legend connects the creation of Long Branch to the Lenape Tribe.

Lenape tribe greets Henry Hudson and crew on Sandy Hook, September 1609

NOVEMBER IS NATIVE AMERICAN HERITAGE MONTH!

According to local folklore, five associates from the original Monmouth Patent holders (John Slocum, Eliakim Wardell, Jasper and Peter Parker and George Hulett) first came to Monmouth County (then the British colony of New Jersey) in 1665 to find suitable land and more religious freedom.

In April 1668, the settlers sought to resolve a land aquisition dispute with the Native American locals. So Slocum engaged in a wrestling match with one of the Native Americans with the agreement being if Slocum won the match, he could buy all the land he was able to walk in one day. This took place under a tree on the southwest corner of today's Ocean Avenue and Broadway, according to the Complete Descriptive Guide to Long Branch, NJ from 1868.

Slocum, winning the match, walked about 375 acres of land which eventually became the city of Long Branch, taking name from being south of the "long branch" of the Shrewsbury River.

By the Head — Slocum has things in hand, 1668.

Staff Spotlight
Nekesha Marshall

I've worked at the Long Branch Library for over 20 years and have enjoyed every moment here. During my time here I've worked in almost all the departments and I must say that my favorite area is working with children. Seeing children excited about reading and telling me about the latest books that they have read brings me great joy.

I would like to send a special thank you to everyone I have met during my time here and an extra special thank you to Janet Birckhead (children's librarian at the time) for coming to my class as a child and opening my eyes to what a magical place the library could be. My hope is that those who enter this building will have the same great experience I did when visiting the library. I want all who enter this building to learn to love books as much as I do. I would like to encourage everyone, not just children, to stop into the library and "choose their next adventure."

Patron Spotlight
Robert Deitrich

I'm Bob Deitrich. I moved to Long Branch a few years ago after retiring as Director of Community Health Outreach and Public Health Education in Orange County, NY for 30 years and teaching Geography in the SUNY system since 1978. I was thrilled to find this Carnegie Library in Long Branch, as I grew up with another one in Bayonne, NJ and found it to be an essential part of my early education. The Long Branch Library is a vibrant community-oriented resource that I utilize at least three times a week to borrow books, movies, music CDs, and to participate in special programs.

With all the library has to offer; the best part is the staff at both branches who are knowledgeable, personable and always helpful in assisting the patron. I must acknowledge the staff at the main library circulation desk; Alyssa, Cadene, Tori, and Yeymi for their interest and efficiency regarding patron needs. Although I have not visited the renovated Elberon branch yet, Tara and Anna always offered premium service as well.

My top recommendations for this year are Whistler by Ann Patchett (fiction), The Soul of America by Jon Meacham (nonfiction), Life of Chuck (movie) and Laufey, a new music artist found. I would like to see the residents utilize this great resource in Long Branch more and find what it offers on many levels.
